ACADEMIC PROJECT

➤ A Research project: Student Result Management System (SRMS)

- This system allows users to:
- Enter student information and subject marks
- Automatically calculate total marks, percentage, and grade
- Display results in a clean, organized format.
- This project demonstrates how programming can replace manual result processing with an efficient, error-free digital system — a practical solution for schools and academic institutions.
- This Project gives me a practical knowledge. A student can see their results and admin can access changing the details of students.
- We use HTML, CSS and JavaScript for frontend.
- We use Python Programming language for backend.
- And we use MYSQL database to store the student's information and handling databases.
